

483BC

Duncan: Cal

Buddha actually died in 483BC

483BC

Buddha actually died in 483BC though the Buddhists
say 543BC

483BC

1912 Dates J-BK

(550-468BC) ARISTIDES, (called THE JUST)

Athenian patriot, noted for his unswerving integrity, a trait which led to his banishment in 483BC. Was next highest in command at the battle of MARATHON, after which he was made Archon of Athens. Recalled from exile to oppose the Persians under Xerxes. He commanded at the battles of SALAMIS and PLATAEA. He excited himself to save from torment his mind TILLEMIS TOCLES, and did so poor that he was turned at public cost.

483 BC

Haridev
Buddhists

Chronologist

The era is reckoned from the death of Buddha in 543 BC, although he actually died in 483 BC.

This era is still in use in Ceylon, Burma, and Thailand.

483 BC

At age 780 BUDDHA died.

483BC

Rivalry of Themistocles and ALIS TIDES.

Themistocles wanted a powerful fleet.

483

ARISTIDES was vanished